A Month of Fairwells for Rev. Kraemer

The weather could not have been better, the food was delicious and mostly healthy, and Adams Homestead provided a beautiful place for Sioux City UUs and All Souls to give David a wonderful send-off on July 17.

Rev. Kraemer reads a story, The White Horse Girl and the Blue Wind Boy by Carl Sandburg.

Despite the stifling heat, All Souls members and friends gathered in the home of Joy Hembel and Paul Thompson on July 22 for a fairwell celebration honoring Rev. Kraemer and his wife Mary. The event was well attended and was an enjoyable evening for all, with delicious food and enlightening conversations.

The final fairwell event was held on July 24 after Rev. Kraemer's last sermon at All Souls.

From the President Claudia Dail

August 2016

It's like a good book, you know it is going to end but you don't want it to. Rev. David's time with All Souls has come to an end and as I reflect on the last 2 years, it has been rather remarkable. I suppose it could be viewed as a church going about its business to some. I've had the opportunity to view the years unfold as an insider – being on the Board and as a recent member with new eyes.

I was drawn to All Souls for many reasons, but one of the main reasons I stayed was Armida's wisdom and wonderful storytelling style. She was a sage who prompted me to think deeper and see the world differently. Who can argue with a woman who wants to retire at the age of 80? It was a wonderful time for All Souls and I wondered as the "book" ended "is there anyone who can touch us so beautifully again?"

As the next book began, I was intrigued by this man who was so different, yet got my attention and made me want to come back to hear him again. Now, as a member of the Board, I was part of the team who keeps the church functioning. David's business sense and knowledge of administration brought new ideas and opened us up to seeing things in a different way. His enthusiasm and hard work (from power sawing to painting to leading a strategic planning session, and so much more) have made a huge impact on our church. He is leaving to lead another congregation and reconnect with family, so the "book" has a wonderful ending.

The next "book" is beginning and this will be a time for our congregation to shine. The committee restructuring brainstorming session was a great success with 30 members and friends participating and sharing their voices. The first Wednesday evening session on happiness had over 20 people gathering to hear more of Walker's thoughts and information. There are 2 more sessions in the series which will be discussion-focused so we can broaden our understanding.

As you can see, the first chapter is exciting and engaging, and this is only the beginning. Transition and change are a time for introspection and envisioning the future. I'm an optimist and feel excited about the possibilities that are unfolding, yet there is an element of realist in me that knows this will be a challenging time for some members and friends of All Souls. Your voice, concerns and comments are important. Share them with any member of the Board or myself. I hope you will be part of the next chapters and help as All Souls continues to grow and nurture our members and friends.

Cheers,
Claudia

Negotiating Racism: A Two-Part Worship Series

Submitted by Chris Provance

During August, we will have a two-part worship series on August 7 and 21. We are fortunate to have 3 powerful guest speakers joining us at All Souls UU Church for this series.

Each of these three speakers have experienced both success and challenge as they negotiate stereotyping and racism in South Dakota. Each of them has entered into politics because of their dedication to social justice and equality in South Dakota. They have also entered into collaboration with each other in order to open an honest and thoughtful dialogue about racism and equality in Sioux Falls and beyond.

August 7, 2016: Negotiating Racism - Part 1 Building Bridges in Challenging Times

Dr. Michael Saba will share his personal desire to make a difference, build bridges and work toward a peaceful world. He will describe his work his experiences worldwide in places like post-apartheid South Africa and effective social reform strategies for reconciliation between disparate groups. He will then introduce us to a collaborative project here in South Dakota called the Truth and Reconciliation Movement.

August 21, 2016: Negotiating Racism - Part 2 Experiences of Racism in South Dakota and the Truth and Reconciliation Movement

J.R. LaPlante was an honored guest speaker during All Souls' Journey toward Justice campaign in 2013 with an effort to repudiate the Doctrine of Discovery. He will return to All Souls to share his experiences as a minority in South Dakota. He and Clara Hart will then continue where Dr. Saba left off describing the South Dakota Truth and Reconciliation Movement and what we can do to be an active part of that movement.

Dr. Michael Saba To Speak on August 7

Bio: Dr. Michael Saba, whose father was a Lebanese immigrant, has enjoyed a career serving others by promoting dialogue and built bridges across cultural and community differences. He has met every U.S. president going back to Dwight Eisenhower (with the exception of George W. Bush), and once spent several days in the Arabian Desert with Nelson Mandela.

Saba was among a group of Americans taken hostage in Iraq by Saddam Hussein during the 1990 Gulf War, and escaped through the Jordanian border, leading to appearances on "Nightline" and "Oprah."

He has served in the Peace Corp, published books on international affairs, and served as the Director of Development for children's clinics throughout the world. Today, Saba is a development consultant for the Avera McKennan Foundation and he is running for one of two open District 9 House seats. He says he is entering politics because he is concerned about South Dakota's direction during the past legislative session. He also serves on numerous organizational boards welcoming and supporting immigrants in Sioux Falls.

Clara Hart To Speak on August 21

Bio: Clara Hart was born in Mozambique, in southern Africa. In 1964, Communist-backed guerillas launched a campaign against Portuguese colonial rule over Mozambique. In 1966, when Hart was eight years old, her family fled the violence in their homeland. They passed through Malawi to Tanzania, where they lived as refugees for three and a half years. UNHCR gave Clara's family refugee status. They lived in Kenya for nineteen years, with financial assistance from UNHCR for a few years to pay rent, bus fare, and school fees. After several years attempting to immigrate and find a home in the USA, Clara found her way to South Dakota where she says people were known to be supportive and open. She obtained a bachelor's degree in political science and history from the University of Sioux Falls and recently a master's degree in social work from the University of South Dakota. Clara has worked with immigrant families in the Sioux Falls school district to help them settle into their new lives in America. Hart is running for District 6 House.

LeRoy "JR" LaPlante To Speak on August 21

Bio: Attorney J.R. LaPlante is an enrolled member of the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe. He is a 2009 graduate of the University of South Dakota School of Law, and served as the first

Secretary of Tribal Relations for the State of South Dakota. He has also served as an Assistant U.S. Attorney, and as Tribal Liaison with the U.S. Attorney's Office and the State of South Dakota. J.R. is running for a South Dakota Legislative seat in District 14.

Pages from Our Past All Soul's Library History

Submitted By Linda Hallstrom
Eliza Tupper Wilkes, founder of All Souls Church, also helped to start the first library in Sioux Falls. In 1881, local women organized the Ladies History Club with a goal of establishing a public library. As a member of the History Club, Eliza chose the very first books for the Sioux Falls Public Library. With donations of $135, the club purchased about 100 books. When the Sioux Falls Library Association was incorporated on August 4, 1886, Eliza served on the Board of Directors. [Source: A History of Minnehaha County, Dana Reed Bailey]

The original All Souls Church building at 12th and Dakota was gifted to the city by W.H. and Winona Lyon in 1899 for use as a public library.

A belief in the importance of books and reading has been part of All Souls since our founding. Today, we maintain a library of current and classic books for our members.

Explore our online catalog or visit our library whenever the church is open. Check out a book or two — Eliza would be proud!

“What an astonishing thing a book is. It’s a flat object made from a tree with flexible parts on which are imprinted lots of funny dark squiggles. But one glance at it and you’re inside the mind of another person, maybe somebody dead for thousands of years. Across the millennia, an author is speaking clearly and silently inside your head, directly to you. Writing is perhaps the greatest of human inventions, binding together people who never knew each other, citizens of distant epochs. Books break the shackles of time. A book is proof that humans are capable of working magic.”

~ Carl Sagan

Committee Restructuring Brainstorming Session

Wow! 30 people stayed for lunch and to reimagine how committees are structured after services on July 10. Rev. David facilitated the discussion and there were many valuable and interesting ideas shared. The Board and COC will continue the conversation in August using the ideas generated.

Thank you to all who participated.

We Care!

All Souls Care Team

Submitted by Mark Sanderson
One of the important roles that Rev. Kraemer played while in our midst was pastoral visits/contacts. Of course we cannot fill that gap, nor should attempt to do so. We will be continuing with the informal caring contacts that have been on-going in our congregation, even in the midst of Rev. David's work.

Our Care Team (not a committee) is keyed to keep an eye and ear to members and friends of our community – to look for transitions or bumps in the roads of life. If you know of someone who needs to be contacted, please feel free to pass on this information to one of the Care Team members.

They are: Mark Sanderson, 941-1841; Nelson Vollink, 605-371-8574; Marsha Vickland, 605-339-2601; & Gina Pfarr-Natz, 605-929-2175.

Of Interest to Members Citizens' Climate Lobby

Multiple All Soul's Member have expressed an interest in Citizens' Climate Lobby (CCL).

Citizens' Climate Lobby exists to EMPOWER citizens to connect with and influence their members of Congress; to spread the idea that each one of us can address climate change solutions like Carbon Fee and Dividend. Volunteer for climate change and bring your voice to Citizens' Climate Lobby!

The next meeting is on Saturday August 13 and again on Saturday September 10 at 11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Each meeting involves a conference call from the National CCL organization at Noon Central Time. The last call was under 40 min. This is the website for the organization: https://citizensclimatelobby.org/volunteer-climate-change/?gclid=CJC5wrW_jM0CFUlfhgodmeYL5w
